

Since graduating from TCU and UTA in the 1980's, Maureen has enjoyed an action-packed professional career as an individual contributor, consultant, and impactful leader with General Dynamics Bath Iron Works, Hospital Corporation of America, and Delhaize America. Returning to TCU in 2018, she serves as Associate Director in the Neeley School of Business Professional Development Center. Her greatest satisfaction in this capacity is to help students gain professional poise through the practice and development of their professional business skills.
