Professional Development Grants (PDG)

To make graduate education more accessible to working students, TCU offers Professional Development Grants for part-time graduate students enrolled in credit courses. Unlike student loans, grants do not need to be repaid. The grants pay one-fourth tuition credit for up to six semester hours for each semester. A total of six hours is allowed for all summer semesters combined.

Qualifications
- Year-round, part-time students enrolled for eight credit hours per semester or less.
- Must be admitted to TCU before application will be considered.
- Must be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident.
- Must be at least 22 years of age by the final day of late registration.
- Must be in good academic and financial standing with all colleges or universities previously attended.

Graduate Programs Fee Scholarship

At TCU, we combine the resources of a major university with a commitment to an exceptional student experience. For us to provide this quality private education experience, TCU Neeley Graduate programs collect fees of $1,700 each semester.

Prospective evening graduate students with a minimum undergraduate GPA of 3.0 and competitive GMAT or GRE scores can qualify for up to $10,200 in scholarship funds to offset the cost of graduate program fees. There is not a separate application to qualify for this scholarship. Once you are admitted to the program, your admission file will automatically be evaluated for scholarship eligibility.

Test Optional Policy

Applicants may choose whether or not to submit a score from the GMAT, GRE or Executive Assessment (EA). This is a Test Optional Policy we provide for our evening students. Since our programs are small by design, we are able to evaluate each applicant thoroughly, and assess academic readiness through review of transcripts and other application materials.
