3-Year Business Honors Cohort

Through rigorous academic, co-curricular, and professional development opportunities, Neeley Fellows aims to develop students of exceptional potential and work ethic to be high-performing business leaders.

Experience

Sophomore Year

- Classes with the cohort: Marketing Management, Fundamentals of Accounting, Financial Management, Entrepreneurial and Business Regulatory Environment, Business Information Systems
- Travel includes a Fall Break trip to New York City exploring various career paths, networking with Neeley Fellows alumni, experiencing company site visits
- Weekly professional development labs covering topics such as resumes, LinkedIn, interviewing, life design, and career exploration
- Assessments include Focus 2 and CoreStrengths to build self awareness, inform potential career opportunities and enhance working with others.

Junior Year

- Classes with the cohort: Business Analytics, Organizational Management, Global Business Perspectives with Ethical Lens (including one-week international travel)
- Alumni coaches provide professional insight, and guidance while building your network
- Opportunities through our student board, NFSO, to build leadership skills, enhance your experience, and further impact our community
- Weekly professional development labs continue to build your exposure and skill set covering topics such as goal setting, mentorship, design thinking, tech skills, and storytelling

Senior Year

- Classes with the cohort: Strategic Management
- Weekly professional development labs focusing on skills to aid in the transition from TCU to post-graduation and preparation to enter an alumni network of 16 graduated cohorts with an established brand of excellence and business success
- Coach and give back to the Neeley Fellows community through serving as a Peer Buddy, sharing insight, and supporting younger cohorts

Investor Relations Associate, The Carlyle Group

"The Neeley Fellows program is so special to me as the faculty, staff, alumni and my peers made me realize that I had the ability and drive to push myself and have a really great career, but also to achieve high goals with grace, class and professionalism."

Claire O'Connor '22

Redwoods Analyst, DaVita

"My Neeley Fellows experience has been one full of growth, opportunity and fun. I have discovered more about myself and the ways that I can use my skills to give back to those around me. This would not have been possible without all of the opportunities through NF including leadership, internships and alumni."
