

BIO: Kenneth Reeves, Sr., Vice President-HR
Board of Trustees, Texas Health Resources
Chancellors Advisory Council, Texas Christian University
Board of International Visitors, Neeley School of Business-
Texas Christian University
Board of Directors, Texas A&M Lettermen's Association

Kenneth currently serves as Vice President-Human Resources, Performance Food Group in the Austin, Texas area. Previously Kenneth served as Managing Director of Human Resources for UTIMCO, also based in the Austin area. He is responsible for leading the efforts of all facets of Human Resources with a keen focus on talent management, leadership development, succession planning, and diversity-equity-inclusion. He is a member of PFG's Leadership Team. Performance Food Group is the 2nd largest food services distributor in the United States. Kenneth has approximately 30 years of experience in HR and has led the human resources function for the last 15 years for organizations such as International Nutrition and Wellness Manufacturing (Rosewood Private Investment company), Freese & Nichols, Bell Helicopter and RadioShack. Kenneth was in the Six Sigma Black Belt Program at Bell Helicopter and also held the role of Vice President of Human Resources for another Textron company, E-Z-GO in Augusta, Georgia. Prior to RadioShack, Kenneth spent 12 years in the energy industry with organizations that included, Dynegey Inc., Enron, and Reliant Energy where he served in various corporate HR roles.

Kenneth received his BS and MS from Texas A&M University, and has completed most course work towards a Ph.D. in Human Resources Training and Development. Prior to his corporate career, Kenneth spent seven years in the National Football League with the Philadelphia Eagles and the Cleveland Browns.