

Scott Schenkel

Scott Schenkel has more than 30 years of global business and financial leadership expertise across commerce, healthcare, and technology businesses. As an operationally focused CFO, Scott's experience spans company, business unit and functional leadership with extensive knowledge in financial planning, analytics, strategy, audit, mergers and acquisitions, acquisition integration, Six Sigma and process improvement.

Scott's most recent role was the Interim CEO of eBay Inc, (<https://www.ebay.com/>) from September 2019 through April of 2020. Scott served as the Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer of eBay Inc. leading finance, analytics and information technology, as well as eBay's Classifieds business unit from 2015 to 2019. Prior to the eBay CFO role, Scott spent six years as Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer of eBay Marketplace, where he was responsible for overseeing finance, analytics, strategy and innovation across the business. Scott joined eBay in 2007 as Vice President of Global Financial Planning and Analytics.

Prior to eBay, Scott spent nearly 17 years at General Electric (<https://www.ge.com/>) in a variety of Finance leadership roles. His last role at GE was the Chief Financial Officer of GE Healthcare Clinical Systems, a global healthcare equipment and clinical information technology solutions provider. Before that, he was Chief Financial Officer for GE Plastics Europe, based in the Netherlands, and the Chief Financial Officer of GE Lighting Europe, based in London and Budapest. Scott spent more than six years with GE's Corporate Audit Staff, working on auditing and consulting efforts for corporate strategy, mergers and acquisitions, acquisition integration, finance and compliance. Scott began his career as part of GE's Financial Management Program with its Power Distribution division in North Carolina.

Scott has served on the Board of Directors at NetApp (<http://www.netapp.com/>) since 2017 and has been the Audit Committee Chairman since 2019. He received his B.S. from Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University's Pamplin College of Business.

Scott currently resides in Scottsdale, Arizona with his wife Kim who is also a Virginia Tech graduate. Scott loves the outdoors and enjoys golfing, skiing, biking and hiking.

###